BILLY T. HAYNES INDUCTED INTO KHSAA HALL OF FAME

Hoop Historian Billy T. Haynes

knows how to have fun. Even when he is on the basketball court as a referee, Haynes keeps his sense of humor. Billy T. was featured in an article in The Kentucky Gleaner News announcing his induction into the Kentucky High School Athletic Association Hall of Fame. Haynes has officiated sports for the past 57 years, which included 22 years as a Division I basketball referee. Anyone who has been with Billy T. knows that he can put a smile on just about anyone's face, but he has managed to do so on the court while earning the respect of participants, making the calls with a sense of fairness and maintaining professionalism. Congratulations Billy T. on your Hall of Fame induction! INTERNATIONAL SUMMER ROAD TRIP

Hoop Historian Steve Bennett knows how to make the most of his summer vacation. The Bennett family was spotted visiting Michaelangelo's David statue in Florence, Italy.

IT'S ANOTHER SUMMER ROAD TRIP

Hoop Historian Joe Spagnolo and Friend of the Hoop Historians Jesse Watson embarked on a one-week baseball stadium trip which covered six games in all five different Major League ballparks in California. The trip started with a pair of games in Anaheim, went south to San Diego, up the Pacific Coast Highway to a day game in San Francisco, a night game and Hoop Historians Pat Irvine's birthday celebration in Oakland and concluded at Dodgers Stadium. The duo saw 1,744 pitches, covered 1,413 miles on the ground and made stops to visit with other Hoop Historians Al Sack, Hersh Cherson, and John Mayberry.
