

HOOP HISTORIANS MAKE DONATION

The Hoop Historians recently made a donation of four basketballs to the Boys and Girls Club of Greater Conejo Valley in Thousand Oaks, California. This community fell victim to California wildfires and a mass shooting in 2018. The Hoop Historians made the donation to newly opened Notter Boys & Girls Club in September. Additional pictures and information on the donation can be found on the Club's Facebook page at: <https://www.facebook.com/BoysandGirlsClubsofGreaterConejoValley/posts/2449007405178105>

Hoop Historians Joe Spagnolo and Al Sack make a presentation to the staff of the Boys & Girls Club of Greater Conejo Valley.

HILTON ATLANTA CHOSEN AS HOOP HISTORIANS FINAL FOUR HEADQUARTERS

2020 FINAL FOUR

APRIL 4 & 6

HOOP HISTORIANS DUO SEES MORE FOOTBALL HISTORY

Hoop Historians Dorothy Kim and Ted Reineking have seen their share of USC-Notre Dame football games over the years. This year's matchup of the Trojans and Fighting Irish marked the 45th time Dorothy has seen the two teams play and it was the 25th matchup attended for Reineking. Among Dorothy's most memorable games are her first USC-ND meeting in 1967 which was the Trojans first win in South Bend since 1939; and "The Comeback" in 1974, where Southern Cal rallied from a 24-7 halftime deficit to win 55-24. Some of Ted's favorite games included the 1973 Notre Dame victory over unbeaten USC, who was the defending National Champs, where Reineking rushed the field after the game and shook hands with Irish quarterback Tommy Clemens; and the "Green Jersey Game" in 1977 as the Notre Dame players warmed up in their traditional blue and gold jerseys but came out of the locker room in green jerseys en route to a 49-19 victory. Both Kim and Reineking also had the 2005 "Bush Push" game on their list as among their most memorable. USC won the game in the final seconds when Reggie Bush pushed quarterback Matt Leinart across the goal line for the 34-31 victory in a crazed environment which saw more than 120,000 people on campus. Notre Dame defeated Southern Cal 30-27 in this year's contest.

HOOP HISTORIANS PHOTO GALLERY

Send your pictures to: hoophistorians@hotmail.com

BATTER UP: Hoop Historians Kevin McCann, Marty Makowski, Larry Baker, Joe Makowski, Joe Lyons and others cheering on the White Sox.

HE KNOWS THE SCORE: The Dean of MLB Official Scorers Ed Munson and Joe Spagnolo at Dodger Stadium.

TAKE THE "A" TRAIN: On their way to South Bend are Dorothy Kim, Sunny Shepherd, Sue Cimbalkuk, Joe Spagnolo Al Sack and Nancy Sack.

THEY'RE IN TINSEL TOWN: Nick Polizzi, Joe Spagnolo, Al Sack and Kiki Ebsen (Buddy's daughter) at the Theatre West in Hollywood.